Everyone for Tennis, Everywhere for Tennis

The mission of the Judy Murray Foundation is simple.

We seek to bring tennis into rural and disadvantaged areas in Scotland.

The Foundation has been set up to create tennis and other sporting projects in communities. We will work in collaboration with others to develop community-based workforces across Scotland by running workshops for anyone with a desire to learn.

We run workshops for both children and adults and will encourage and assist others to run sessions themselves or in pairs/groups within the community, increasing the workforce and up-skilling people.

No-one needs any previous tennis experience as we will show tennis skill building activities which are fun and simple.

Our first session is being held at Centre 81, Clydebank on Thursday 13 February 2020 between 10.30am – 12 noon.

Please come along for some information and grab a bite to eat with some free soup and sandwiches.

We look forward to seeing you then.
